About the Annual Meeting

For over 40 years, NAWM's annual State/Tribal/Federal Coordination (STFC) Meeting has provided a crucial space for wetland professionals to gather and learn from each other, share best practices, and enjoy productive networking opportunities to support and enhance their wetland programs. This year's meeting will be held for the first time in the Pacific Northwest at the beautiful Skamania Lodge in Stevenson, Washington from April 8-11, 2025.

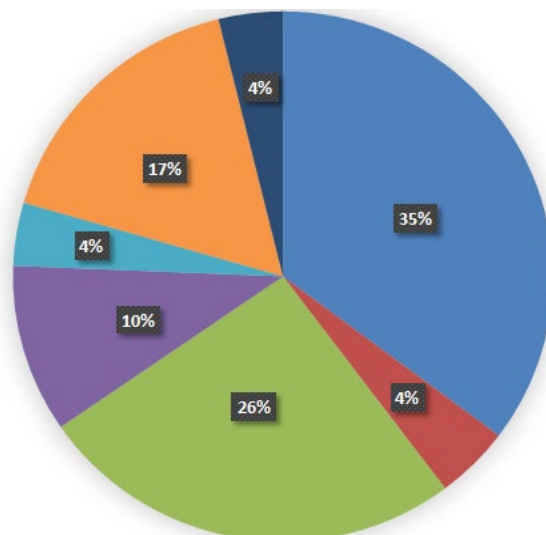

The purpose of NAWM's annual meeting is to support state, Tribal, and federal wetland program managers and other wetland professionals as they respond to challenges in the coming year. The theme for this year's meeting will be Building an Evergreen Future with Wetlands and the agenda will include three full days of individual presentations and panels, social events, and optional field trips.

The Skamania Lodge lies in the heart of the natural beauty of the Columbia River Gorge National Scenic Area and is located 45 minutes from Portland, Oregon and Portland International Airport. It provides a variety of pre/post meeting space to engage with fellow wetlanders or encourage exploring the natural surroundings.

About Our Audience

NAWM's annual STFC meeting is unique from other annual conferences in that the STFC meeting is a much more intimate event with an average of 150 engaged participants. Attendees include key decision-makers and professionals working for state, Tribal and federal government agencies, as well as members of the private sector, non-profits, academia, and more. Audience members are generally well-educated with a mix of seasoned professionals and those new to their careers.
